- There are so many times when we don't ask questions, and business innovators, they're good at doing it. They won't sit back. They're willing to challenge the status quo. And what we find, is that innovation is more likely to occur when individuals take the initiative to ask the questions, and when leaders take the opportunity to create a safe space for others to ask the questions.

Lester William Polsfuss (June 9, 1915 – August 12, 2009), known as Les Paul, was an American jazz, country, and blues guitarist, songwriter, luthier, and inventor. He was one of the pioneers of the solid-body electric guitar, and his techniques served as inspiration for the Gibson Les Paul. Paul taught himself how to play guitar, and while he is mainly known for jazz and popular music, he had ...

- Being a traditional Waterfall project manager made it really unlikely that your project would be successfully completed. Let alone according to the plan you laid out at the beginning. It was more like being a weatherman doing a forecast for a specific day next year. Except for random luck, you'd be wrong.
