Notice how each was turned down by NHE but none of them turned NHE down. There's a reason some people are angry enough to sit at home posting an 'opinion' and it isn't because of the 'no study guide required' policy each has admitted exists. It has to be because they failed the exam and really wanted to work at this place.

Is anyone familiar with NHE and employment opportunities?

Heat training will be tied closely to the corresponding factor of dehydration, and the ability of an athlete to replenish fluids. At higher altitudes, the body compensates for the decrease in available oxygen by increasing its production of erythrocytes, commonly known as red blood cells, which transport oxygen through the body.

It was also noted that the exam questions didn't make sense without the study guide which can be purchased optionally for $150. Is the offer of employment and/or free certification a lure to sell expensive study guides? Why has NHE chosen to send legal threats and post bogus customer stories about this site rather than address the issues above?
